

Thanksgiving Time

Wake up and do something to be thankful for. If you are a slave to the rent habit, buy a home and have something to be thankful for when Thanksgiving Day arrives. You have paid rent so long that it is now a habit which requires to be broken. Now is the time to break it. Property is cheap and easy terms may be had. Inquire about our bargain at Kaimuki—a new, modern house, with large lot in lawn, and the price so very low it ought to suit.

FINNIGAN WILL SING NEW SONGS TONIGHT

The performance by the company headed by M. J. Hooley at the Opera House, Thursday night, for the benefit of the Elks, was a decided success from every point of view and the sale of seats for tonight indicates a larger audience than was present on the first night. There will be changes in the songs and dances by Mr. Hooley and the Center children. On this occasion Hooley, who will still be Finnigan, will render the popular and intensely funny New York character song "Harrigan," which fits his part better than any song published. He will do a step or two on the sand and make the audience wish it could dance half so well. There will be many improvements in the play so that it will be quite as enjoyable to those who attended the first performance as it will be to those who go tonight for the first time. There are some vacant seats to be had of Wall, Nichols Co., Ltd.
